Dear Sunhild,

I am writing to update you on news of the book "Techno Textiles: Revolutionary Fabrics for Fashion and Design" published by Thames and Hudson in February 1998.

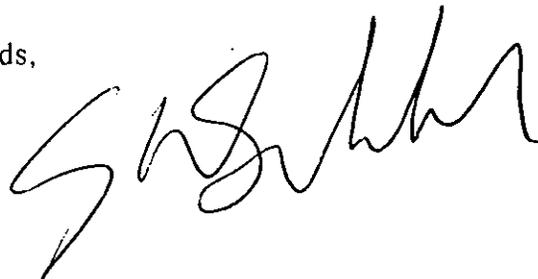

As you know your work is featured and you are also included in the biographical section. The book has received excellent reviews and is selling well. I hope you are as happy with it as the publishers, myself and my colleague, Marie O'Mahony are.

Thames and Hudson only gave us, the authors five complimentary copies of the book each and as I am sure you can appreciate these have gone to family. However, for those who have contributed to the book they are offering a reduced rate of £25.00.

Please find enclosed here details of how to order your book and the final images returned.

It has been a pleasure working with you. Please keep me updated with your recent work for any future exhibitions / writing I may organise.

Thank you and with very best regards,

Sarah E. Braddock
